

District 18 Commanders Report

As we head into November, please remember that Daylight Saving Time ends on November 2nd—don't forget to set your clocks back!

November is also a month of giving and a time to celebrate two very special days: the United States Marine Corps Birthday on November 10th, and Veterans Day on November 11th. Let's take a moment to honor all who have served and continue to serve our great nation.

I'd like to remind everyone to stay alert for scam emails and text messages. The American Legion conducts all official business during our monthly meetings—we will never ask members to purchase or send gift cards to anyone. If you ever receive a suspicious message, please verify it directly with your Post or District officers.

Many cities throughout our district will be hosting Veterans Day celebrations. Let's proudly represent the American Legion by attending and wearing our Legion cover at these events.

For the latest updates, please visit our district website: cadistrict18.org. The Department of California website, calegion.org, also offers great resources for Legionnaires.

I will also be making Post visits and looking their Post's bylaws to determine their regular meeting schedules. Calling the Post Commanders to let them know ill be attending.

Coming up, we have a few events of interest:

- Los Angeles County Council Meeting – Held on the first Friday of each month. If you're interested in attending, please reach out. The next meeting will be at Post 280, East Pasadena. Dinner begins at 6:00 PM, and the meeting starts at 7:00 PM.
- Annual Tamale Festival – Hosted by Alhambra Post 139 from 10:00 AM to 4:00 PM. If you're interested in being a vendor or entering your tamales to be judged, visit: <https://form.jotform.com/forshezzle/2025-LACC-TAMALE>.

And lastly, everyone has their favorite baseball team—but this season, let's cheer for our home team...

Go Dodgers!

Comrades,

Your continued support shows the strength and unity of District 18. I look forward to planning more activities that bring our members together in the same spirit of fellowship and fun.

Thanksgiving and Christmas are just a few weeks and month away, remember those less fortunate, donate to the district holiday Christmas program that we may assist and have a special gift giving and/or luncheon to our Veterans in need. Thank you for your kindness and compassion.

Semper Fi,
Irvin Flores

U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs

Greetings Post Leadership (ET AL),

Department California American Legion Upside down posts???

Not all post on this list were contacted here due to no information provided. District Commanders, if you see a post that belongs to your respective area please reach out to ensure this gets sorted out.

If you are receiving this, your Post has been identified as an upside-down Post, meaning their published dues are below the combined National and Department per-capita. Why does this matter to you:

1. Members cannot renew online at legion.org or through the MyLegion platform.
2. The Post receives no post per-capita to invest in programs and operation.
3. The Posts dues line on renewal notices will not reflect a positive, accurate amount until this is corrected with National.

Why did this happen:

1. An updated Post Data Report (PDR) was not submitted last April to account for changes
2. An updated PDR was not submitted entering into the new Legion year (i.e. July 1) to account for the changes.

How do you remedy this issue:

1. Immediately update your dues with National by submitting an updated PDR to Department so that we can update our records and Nationals records. The form is available on our www.callegion.org website.
2. Please ensure that you submit a date for immediate activation, if no date is provided your update will take place July 1.
3. Please provide to Department prior to December 5, 2025.

We are prioritizing outreach to these identified Posts to encourage immediate PDR submission so their members can renew smoothly, and the Post can better fund their operations and programs.

Why Leaders Ensure Compliance to a Constitution and By-Laws

The Importance of Upholding Governance and Regulations

Introduction

Leaders play a crucial role in any organization, be it a country, a corporation, or a community group. A fundamental aspect of their leadership is ensuring compliance with the constitution and by-laws that govern their organization. This adherence is not merely a legal obligation but a cornerstone of maintaining order, integrity, and trust within the institution.

Foundations of Governance

Constitutions and by-laws serve as the foundational legal documents that outline the structure, functions, and procedures of an organization. They establish the rules and principles that guide the behavior of its members and leaders. Ensuring compliance with these documents is essential for several reasons.

Legal Obligation

First and foremost, compliance with the constitution and by-laws is a legal obligation. These documents are often legally binding, and failure to adhere to them can result in legal repercussions. Leaders must ensure that their organization operates within the framework of the law, avoiding actions that could lead to lawsuits or penalties.

Maintaining Order and Stability

A well-defined constitution and set of by-laws provide a clear roadmap for organizational operations. They delineate the roles and responsibilities of leaders and members, outline decision-making processes, and establish procedures for handling disputes. This clarity fosters a sense of order and stability, reducing the potential for conflicts and misunderstandings.

Ensuring Fairness and Equity

One of the key purposes of a constitution and by-laws is to ensure fairness and equity within an organization. These documents are designed to protect the rights of all members and prevent abuses of power. Leaders who enforce compliance are upholding these principles, ensuring that everyone is treated fairly and that decisions are made transparently and impartially.

Building Trust and Credibility

Trust is the cornerstone of any successful organization. When leaders demonstrate a commitment to following the constitution and by-laws, they build trust among members and stakeholders. This trust is crucial for fostering a positive organizational culture and encouraging active participation and engagement.

Protecting the Organization's Integrity

Compliance with governance documents protects the integrity of the organization. It ensures that the organization operates according to its established principles and values, preserving its reputation and credibility. Leaders who prioritize compliance are safeguarding the long-term viability and success of the organization.

Promoting Accountability and Transparency

Accountability and transparency are fundamental aspects of good governance. By ensuring compliance with the constitution and by-laws, leaders promote a culture of accountability. They demonstrate that they are answerable to the organization's rules and regulations and that they are committed to operating transparently. This transparency builds confidence among members and stakeholders, reinforcing the organization's legitimacy.

Preventing Abuse of Power

A key function of governance documents is to prevent the abuse of power. Constitutions and by-laws establish checks and balances that limit the authority of leaders and prevent autocratic decision-making. By enforcing compliance, leaders ensure that power is exercised responsibly and that the organization remains democratic and inclusive.

Facilitating Effective Decision-Making

Effective decision-making is essential for organizational success. Constitutions and by-laws provide a structured framework for making decisions, ensuring that they are made based on established procedures and criteria. This structure enhances the quality of decisions, making them more consistent, rational, and aligned with the organization's goals.

Adapting to Changing Circumstances

While constitutions and by-laws provide stability, they are not static documents. Organizations operate in dynamic environments, and governance documents must be adaptable to changing circumstances. Leaders play a crucial role in ensuring that these documents are periodically reviewed and updated to reflect new realities and challenges. This adaptability ensures that the organization remains relevant and responsive to its members' needs.

Encouraging Member Participation

A transparent and accountable governance structure encourages member participation. When members see that their organization operates according to clear rules and principles, they are more likely to engage and contribute. Leaders who enforce compliance demonstrate that they value the input and involvement of all members, fostering a sense of ownership and commitment.

Ensuring Long-Term Sustainability

Ultimately, ensuring compliance with the constitution and by-laws is about ensuring the long-term sustainability of the organization. These documents provide a solid foundation upon which the organization can grow and thrive. Leaders who prioritize compliance are laying the groundwork for future success, ensuring that the organization remains strong, resilient, and capable of achieving its mission.

Conclusion

In conclusion, leaders ensure compliance with the constitution and by-laws for a multitude of reasons. It is a legal obligation, a means of maintaining order and stability, a way to ensure fairness and equity, and a method for building trust and credibility. Compliance promotes accountability and transparency, prevents the abuse of power, facilitates effective decision-making, and helps the organization adapt to changing circumstances. By upholding these governance documents, leaders protect the integrity of the organization, encourage member participation, and ensure its long-term sustainability. In essence, ensuring compliance is not just about following rules; it is about embodying the principles and values that define the organization and guiding it toward a successful future.
